KEATING CITES FACTS
ABOUT GIRL WORKERS

Some graphic description of how girls in Washington manage to live on wages of $8 per week and less were incorporated into the Congressional Record by Representative Keating yesterday.

The information was furnished by girls who are employed in this city and was introduced as part of the campaign which the Colorado Representative is making to have a Congressional investigation of the cost of living in the District.

One girl states that after paying necessary expenses, she has 10 cents per week left as a surplus fund. It is Representative Keating's desire to have a minimum wage law for women put into effect that would fix a standard of $8 or thereabouts as the lowest weekly salary upon which a woman can keep herself in comfort.

LOUISIANA ELKS
DUE HERE TODAYLocal Lodge Plans Welcome for Visiting Brethren from New Orleans.

James R. Nicholson, of New Orleans, La., grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will arrive in Washington early this morning on a special train, conveying the membership of New Orleans Lodge of Elks and a band of forty pieces.

The visiting dignitaries, who are en route to Baltimore for the annual reunion of the order in that city next week, will be welcomed at Union Station at 7 o'clock this morning by William F. Gude, exalted ruler of Washington Lodge, No. 15, and prominent members of the fraternity here.

Exalted Ruler Gude has made elaborate arrangements for the entertainment of the New Orleans Elks, during the day. Mr. Gude and Charles J. Columbus called at the White House yesterday to arrange for a reception of the visitors by the President. This will be accorded, official duties permitting.

Washington Lodge of Elks has made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the grand exalted ruler and his official brethren at the clubhouse tonight, following which the entire body will take a train for Bedford City, Va., where imposing exercises will be held tomorrow at the Elks' Home at that place.

The reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will open Monday and continue all of next week, during which time Washington lodge will maintain open house.

There is every expectation that at least 50,000 members of the order and their ladies will visit Washington during the coming week. In view of this circumstance, the Retail Merchants' Association has made an appeal to the business houses of Washington to decorate their exteriors and interiors in the Elks' colors, purple and white. President Andrews has set a very wholesome example in his store exterior and interior, and it is expected that merchants generally will follow in line for this welcome to the brother Elks.

Purely Personal

J. A. Bokel, a Baltimore merchant, was in Washington yesterday.

George Jackson, engineer of the Potomac River tug Edith G. Winslow, has been called to Norfolk by the serious illness of his sister.

Nat T. Worley, former local newspaperman, was in Washington over the Fourth. Mr. Worley now is connected with the New York Observer.

M. G. Clarke, of L. A. Clarke & Son, has returned to the city from an automobile tour through Charles County, Md.

John W. A. Murphy, of Baltimore, has been assigned as boiler inspector to the local district of the United States Steamboat Inspection Service.

Fred E. White has been temporarily appointed stenographer and typewriter in the Bureau of Navigation.

Mrs. Margaretta Neale, in the office of the Secretary of Commerce, has been promoted.

Maxwell James and Harry A. Burgess have resigned from positions as laboratory assistant in the Bureau of Standards.

Arlin D. Miller, assistant engineer; John Clacey, glass worker, and Edward O. Sperling, glass blower, in the Bureau of Standards, have been promoted.

Albert D. Conley has been provisionally appointed as laboratory assistant in the Bureau of Standards.

Sam J. Waggerman, Los Angeles manager of a local advertising firm, is visiting his mother and brother here.

L. N. Fluchey, of 1201 East Capitol street, is ill at Georgetown University Hospital.

Mrs. Fields, of 2607 Lowell street, this city, is spending the month of July at Wildwood, N. J.

GROTTO MEMBERS
DELIGHT KIDDIESMasonic Organization Furnishes Entertainment at Camp Good Will.

"One big ice cream cone is good, two are better, and three make it a regular party," said one of the 145 boys and girls at Camp Good Will yesterday, while he munched on the last of a trio of cones that had contained "chocolate, strawberry and vanilla."

It was a regular party, since Kallipolis Grotto of Masons was the host for the children who are spending a fortnight at the summer vacation camp of the Associated Charities in the heart of Rock Creek Park. Kallipolis Grotto appreciates the capacity appetite of boys and girls who have romped all day through the fields and there was enough ice cream, cake and oranges to fill each little guest until he was satisfied. Which means that a considerable quantity of ice cream was consumed.

The Masons left their headquarters at the Temple at 5 p. m. Previous to the arrival of the members of the Grotto, a steel slide and two tester boards had been set up in the grounds.

Past Master P. R. Pullman, assisted by a committee of members, supervised the distribution of the delicacies and the Grotto Band of twenty-five pieces, under the direction of Mr. Pullman, played a stirring two-step while the march to the commissary department began.

At Camp Good Will the majority of the guests are quartered in shelter tents, and a number of these are officially opened and dedicated yesterday. Twenty-five dollars' worth of these tents. The following organizations were represented in the signs attached to the shelters: Washington Centennial Lodge of Masons, Philadelphia Lodge, Washington Centennial, Columbian Lodge, St. John Lodge, Harmony Lodge, New Jerusalem Lodge, Mt. Horeb Chapter, Columbian Chapter, Scottish Rite, Columbian Chapter and the Washington Lodge of Elks.

Individuals who have endowed tents are Miss Mabel Boardman, Mrs. Charles C. Glover, B. E. McDowell, Mrs. Duncan D. Phillips, H. V. Hayden, Gen. William Crozier and N. Musher.

The Town Crier

A patriotic address will be delivered before Lebanon Lodge, No. 7, F. A. A. M., by Dr. J. Shera Montgomery, at 8 o'clock tonight.

Columbia Lodge, No. 3, of the Masonic Order, will meet tonight. A grand chapter school of instruction of the Royal Arch will also be held.

Columbia Commandery, No. 2, and the orders of Temple and Malta, of the Knights Templar, will meet tonight.

Martha Chapter, No. 4, and Ascension Chapter, No. 20, of the Eastern Star, will meet tonight. The meeting of the Eastern Star, East Gate Lodge, No. 34, has been canceled.

President Wilson probably will attend one of the performances of "How Britain Prepared" at the Belasco next week.

The regular meeting of the Kinnear class of young men of the Cavalry Baptist Church, will be held at the home of the teacher, Mrs. J. B. Kinnear, 1870 California street, tonight at 8 o'clock. The president of the class, Sylvester Smallwood, will preside.

Mount Vernon Commandery, United Order of the Golden Cross, will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening at Pythian Temple. After the business meeting the "Mount Vernon Chorus" will give a rehearsal.

Railway Companies Sued.

Alleging that she was injured in a collision between two cars of the City and Suburban Railway Company near Mount Rainier on April 18 last, Florence L. Pierce yesterday filed suit in District Supreme Court for $10,000. Hattie Edwards yesterday filed suit for $25,000 against the Washington Railway and Electric Company, claiming that a car of the defendant company started from Fifteenth and H streets northeast on September 27 last, while she was alighting.

No Money for Caretakers.

The appropriation for the payment of the caretakers of the Board of Children's Guardians being exhausted, nearly 200 caretakers were disappointed yesterday at being turned away without money.

"IT TOOK A REAL CON-
STIPATION REMEDY
TO CURE ME"

Mrs. Magarity Also Relieved of Heartburn, Nervousness and Gastritis by Only One Bottle of Dreco!

"Don't try to tell me one single thing about Gastritis, Heartburn and Constipation, because I've had 'em," said Mrs. Magarity, 1011 N. Caroline street, Baltimore, Md.

"I had gastritis till I was almost afraid to look at a dinner, and no matter how hungry I was, I always suffered so after eating that it was hardly worth it. I couldn't sleep, either, and was as nervous as a witch, with headaches almost all the time and a constant trouble from constipation. In fact, that was one of my worst troubles, and the thing I'm most glad to be rid of."

"I only needed the first bottle to prove to me that what I'd been looking for I'd found. And I can tell you I'm mighty glad I did, too! You know a person gets mighty tired going without good things to eat just because she knows she's going to pay up for it with pain. And when you can't sleep—that caps the climax. Nothing like that, now, I can assure you. I've made an improvement I'm proud of, and I'm only too glad to give all the credit to Dreco, for it's proven a wonderful remedy in my case, and I'm only too glad to state it for the benefit of others who may be suffering in the same way."

"My appetite's as good as when I was a young girl, I sleep fine all night through. I don't have heartburn half as much as I did, and the constipation is almost entirely corrected, and I feel sure that with one more bottle of Dreco I'll be in as perfect shape physically, as it is possible for me to be."

"You can refer anybody at all to me, for what I'm stating here are facts, and I'm only too pleased to give the credit where it belongs—to Dreco—for it's a wonder remedy. In my opinion, and the only thing I ever found that was put into a bottle that would actually relieve all these bad conditions."

Get Dreco at O'Connell's Drug Stores, Allen's in Alexandria, and Bury's in Annapolis.—Adv.

TO REPORT D. C. BILL.

Senate Subcommittee Promises Action by Saturday

The subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee, which has been considering the District appropriation bill, will complete its work and report after a special meeting tomorrow.

The so-called half-and-half plan of taxation for the District occupied but a short part of the committee's deliberations yesterday, since an early adjournment was taken, and but few of the many amendments were considered. It is certain that, regardless of the report of the committee, the matter of District taxation will furnish the subject of a very lively and extended debate in the Senate. Friends of the District half-and-half plan are hopeful of a favorable report from the subcommittee, which will mean the continuation of the present plan.

Plan Baseball Game.

Announcement was made at Board of Trade headquarters yesterday that Albert E. Landvoigt, Dr. H. Clarence Duffy and Edward J. Murphy have been appointed as a committee to meet the committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and make arrangements for the proposed ball game between the two bodies. The game will probably be held the last of this month, at the American League Park.

Brandenburg Named Chairman.

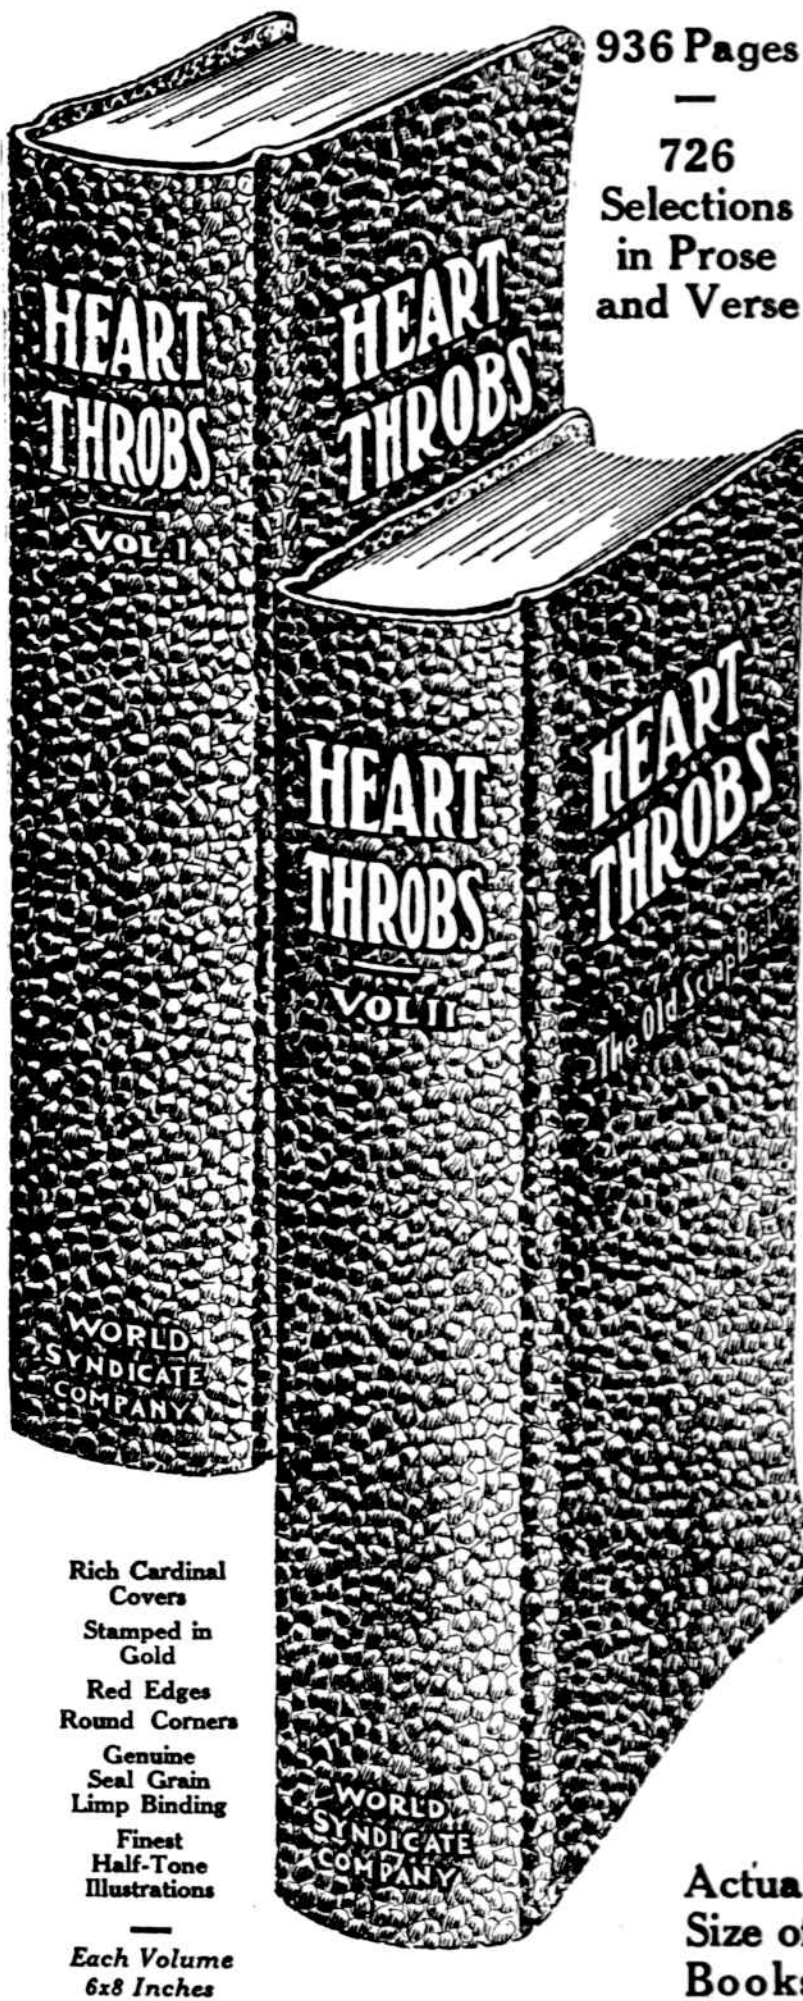

Robert N. Harper, chairman of the joint committee in charge of arrangements for the Confederate Veterans' reunion to be held here next May, yesterday appointed Edwin C. Brandenburg to head a subcommittee on law and legislation. Those who will serve with Mr. Brandenburg are William V. Cox, Myron M. Parker, Cuno H. Rudolph, John Joy Edson, Judge C. B. Howry, and C. J. Bell.

do not wear their hearts upon their sleeves. They are reticent concerning their inner lives, even to their intimates. But when we know the books they read, the verses that were their favorites, we can come near to tracing that trend of their hidden feelings.

There was always a strain of sadness and mystery in Abraham Lincoln. Born to sound the depths and to scale the heights of human existence, he was subject at times to moods of brooding melancholy. We look in vain for any explanation from his own words. His numerous biographers do not satisfy us on this point. But when we know that his favorite poem was William Knox's now famous verses "Why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" we seem to have some clew to the cause underlying this sombre trait of his character. This wonderful poem, found in volume 1 of "Heart Throbs," now being presented to readers of may be said to expound a part, at least, of Lincoln's philosophy. Told in simple language, of a hackneyed metre and homely rhyme—he was fond of repeating stanzas from it, and often would recite the entire composition. To read it and know it, is the better to understand this heroic figure of American history.

50,000 people from every section of this country, in all the vocations and avocations of life, voting upon one proposition—would presumably express the average preference of millions of their countrymen—and women. That is what makes "Heart Throbs"—the two volumes now being presented by this paper to its readers—the most unique work ever published. It is filled from cover to cover with things that never grow old or die; the very things you wish a thousand times you had memorized, or knew where to find in print. There are more than seven hundred literary treasures that have endeared themselves to the masses of the plain people.

No book ever published has so accurately mirrored the real sentiment of the American people. The seven hundred selections contributed by more than fifty thousand of our fellow countrymen and women show as nothing else in this wide world could do their aspirations, their ambitions, their daily lives hidden from the public gaze. And it is a matter of congratulation for all of us that the standard as shown in "Heart Throbs" is of such lofty and meritorious degree. The fifty thousand contributions sent in to the publishers contained not one ignoble thought or vulgar sentiment. Not one selection that did not make for the improvement of the individual and the elevation of his fellow man.

You can't know what joy is until you own "HEART THROBS."
